PGPresents Celebrates Eight Years Promoting Responsible Borrowing and Responsible Repayment

August 11, 2016

Shepherdstown, West Virginia

Still unique in the higher education, financial aid, and student loan consulting communities, PGPresents enters its ninth year of operation stronger than ever, with a remarkable record of helping students borrow responsibly and prepare for responsible repayment.

During its first eight years, PGPresents has:

- Helped over 75,000 borrowers through its popular Debt Management Listserv service
- Helped over 2,500 borrowers with in-depth personal consultations through its popular One-Time Consultation and On-Call services
- Developed clients nationwide, as well as in Australia, Asia, and the United Kingdom
- Provided hundreds of dynamic in-person educational debt management workshops to schools, associations, and higher education groups

In reflecting on the success of PGPresents, Paul S. Garrard, Founder and President, offered the following:

“We were unique from the start, offering timely and unbiased information for those who need help managing their student loans, and I am especially pleased that we have done this ‘the right way’, never taking advantage of borrowers and always encouraging potential clients to first make use of free resources before hiring us. We have a business model that allows for sustained and controlled growth and that has allowed us to always adhere to our ‘Standards of Care’ as we help an ever increasing number of borrowers, schools, and organizations. Our personal consultations have grown so popular that we are now offering them to recent graduates of all disciplines, including recent college graduates, and we are constantly receiving referrals from financial advisors whose clients need help with their student loans. I am personally grateful to all the higher education and school aid professionals who engaged us early on and who continue to trust PGPresents to help with their educational debt management efforts.”

PGPresents’ current service offerings include:

- Unmatched customized call center and staff training on student loan repayment
- Dynamic, interactive, personal workshops for students and alumni
- National and regional student loan repayment webinars
- Customized, easy to understand repayment modules
- Debt Management Listserv services for graduates, providing proactive timely information on repayment
- Personal consultations that set the industry standard for thoroughness and follow-up
- Website content assistance
